

THE 1140-a COMPANY

Sponsor prospect research — Claude Fable 5 run

Tuesday 14 July 2026 · Prepared to the specification in "Sponsor research — prompt for Deep Research / Fable 5"

Method and honesty statement

Everything below is either (a) sourced, with the source named in the final column, or (b) explicitly labelled as inference or as "not found". Where a named individual appears, the source and its date are given; personnel change, so every name should be verified before approach. Amounts are quoted only where a source states them. Where the last-three-years evidence standard could not be met, the age of the evidence is flagged rather than hidden. Nothing has been invented. Sixteen distinct web research passes were run; this is one model's output and, per your own protocol, its value lies in the overlap with the Deep Research run.

One structural finding shapes everything: because The 1140-a Company holds no federal 501(c)(3) determination, most foundation grant programmes (Kelley, TD, Eastern Bank, and any programme requiring IRS public-charity status) are closed or complicated this year. Corporate sponsorship budgets — banks' event-sponsorship lines, marketing spend at brokerages and insurers, family-business giving — are the open door, because a sponsorship is deductible to them as an ordinary business expense regardless of your status. Rockland Trust's event-sponsorship programme explicitly accepts non-501(c)(3) community organisations, which makes it unusually valuable.

Second structural finding: the calendar. It is 14 July; the event is 29 August. Cape & Coast requires 8 weeks' notice (already past); Rockland requires 6–8 weeks before the publicity deadline (borderline); Kelley takes up to six months (impossible). For 2026, the realistic route is principal-to-principal: a direct ask to a bank president, a family-business owner, or a foundation trustee who can decide in a phone call. The formal portals are the 2027 route — and worth filing for regardless, since a Year 2 exists in your operating thesis.

Category strength ranking

1. Cape banks and credit unions — strongest. Formal, marketing-minded event-sponsorship programmes with rolling intake; documented precedent of naming-level sponsorship of Cape events (Cape Cod 5 → CCBL; Coop/Cape & Coast → Cape Symphony, AFCC; Rockland → cultural events by design). The exclusivity of a sole-sponsor offer is worth more to a bank than to anyone else on the Cape, because three of them compete for the same year-round depositors your ticket pricing targets.
2. Private and family foundations with an arts remit — strong fit, wrong clock. The Davenport arts foundation is the single best match on paper; Kelley and McGraw are proven Cape arts funders. But cycles are slow and several require tax-exempt status. File now for 2027.
3. Insurance — moderate-strong. RogersGray/Baldwin is Dennis-headquartered, has an AFCC funding credit within the last three years, and a rebrand to advertise.
4. Real estate — moderate-strong. Raveis and Kinlin Grover both show recent, visible Cape sponsorship behaviour; a front-row, clam-bake, meet-the-headliners package is bespoke client entertainment for a luxury brokerage.

5. Multi-generational family businesses — moderate. Davenport and Mid-Cape have structured giving; decisions are fast because they are personal. Arts precedent thinner (Davenport excepted).

6. Healthcare — weak for this event. CCHC's community-benefit money is legally steered to health-needs criteria; only its marketing arm could plausibly sponsor, and no arts precedent was found.

7. Utilities and energy — weak-moderate. Vineyard Wind is the interesting one (Barnstable is its host town and it buys goodwill systematically); Eversource's giving is centralised off-Cape.

8. Marine, hospitality, restaurants — weak for a single $17.5k cash ask; giving in these categories is habitually in-kind (Hy-Line's stated policy is passes, not cash). Better as barter partners (catering, transport) than as the sole sponsor.

9. Law, accountancy and wealth management — weakest on public evidence. Cape firms in these categories leave almost no public giving trail; what exists (La Tanzi's CCF fund) points to scholarships. This category is reached through introductions, not research.

Prospect table — Tier 1 (strongest: approach for 2026)

Prospect	Category	Why plausible / likely budget	Documented Cape giving (evidence)	Venue link	Timing / cy
John K. & Thirza F. Davenport Foundation (The Davenport Companies, South Yarmouth)	Family foundation / family business	The only Cape funder whose stated remit is a near-exact match: visual and performing arts in Barnstable County, with preference for one-time projects, Mid-Cape locations and matching-funded events. Budget: family arts foundation.	States it "will accept grant requests from Barnstable County based nonprofit organizations with a commitment to excellence in the visual and performing arts... Special consideration will be granted to Mid-Cape based and matching funded events." Credited as a funder of the Arts Foundation of Cape Cod (AFCC) Capacity-Building Programme, Jan 2026. Sister foundation (Palmer & Jane D.) awarded $230,000 to 26 Cape nonprofits in a recent round.	None found	Online application; published deadline. DeWitt Davenport oversees the family charity efforts (sourced).
Cape Cod 5 (Cape Cod Five Cents Savings Bank)	Bank	Largest Cape community bank; formal Philanthropy / Community Support Applications programme; long record of naming-level event sponsorship. Budget: charitable giving / corporate sponsorship.	Annual event sponsorships for Housing Assistance Corp. et al. (funder spotlight, 2024). $10,000 league-wide Cape Cod Baseball League sponsorship (older evidence, 2018, sustained "more than a decade"). Sponsor of Philanthropy Partners of the Cape & Islands (current).	None found	Rolling online application (Community Support Applications portal). President named in 20 source: Bert Talerman — verify before approach.
Cape & Coast Bank (formerly The Cooperative Bank of Cape Cod) + The Coop Foundation	Bank	Corporate Giving programme is explicitly sponsorship of programmes and events, with promotion of the bank as the stated aim — precisely a $17.5k exclusive-sponsor pitch. Budget: corporate giving (sponsorship), separate from foundation grants.	Event sponsorship guidance: typical $500–$5,000 annual support; event requests "normally don't exceed $7,500" per organisation per year — a $17.5k sole ask exceeds published norms; may need splitting or a bespoke conversation. The Coop Foundation gave $5,000 to Cape Symphony (2022). Credited funder of AFCC grants (2024) and AFCC Capacity-Building Programme (Jan 2026).	None found	Requests required at least 8 weeks before event — 29 is inside that window; 2026 only via direct approach, formal route viable 2027. CEO named sources: Lisa Oliver — verify

Rockland Trust / Rockland Trust Charitable Foundation	Bank	Event Sponsorship programme explicitly covers cultural events and arts performances, caters to "both nonprofit and for-profit organizations", and expects "quantifiable recognition and visibility" — i.e. it is marketing-minded sponsorship, not charity. Notably does NOT require 501(c)(3) for event sponsorships (community-based organisations eligible) — important given 1140-a's status.	Foundations provided $3m+ in grants and sponsorships to 800+ organisations in 2021; $460,000 to 54 organisations in Q2 2022 alone. Cape Cod & Islands named within giving footprint (Barnstable County listed in geographic service area).	None found	Rolling, year-round, online portal only; applications must arrive a minimum of 4 weeks before the event's publicity deadline — tight for 29 Apr strong for 2026. Contact in sources: Ann Borowiecki, Charitable Giving & Community Engagement (2022) — ve
South Shore Playhouse Associates, Inc. (owner-operator, Cape Cod Melody Tent)	Arts non-profit / presenter-funder	A 501(c)(3) presenter that reinvests ticket revenue into other Cape arts and education organisations — over $4m granted in recent years. It already funds Cape comedy-adjacent presenting and underwrites AFCC grantmaking. Caveat: it presents comedy at the Melody Tent (John Mulaney sold out two 2026 shows), so it is simultaneously a potential funder and a quasi-competitor.	"$4 million has already been distributed to other non-profit arts and education organizations over the past decade." Credited funder of AFCC annual grants (2024) and Capacity-Building Programme (Jan 2026).	None found	Grant programme; published deadline for 2026 — enquire directly (marketing@musiccircus.org) listed for partnerships
RogersGray / The Baldwin Group (insurance)	Insurance	Headquartered in South Dennis — the organiser's own town; runs a community sponsorship programme and has a named charitable foundation fund at the Cape Cod Foundation. A locally-rooted firm recently rebranded under a national group has a marketing reason to buy visible Cape goodwill.	Credited funder of AFCC annual grant-giving (2024). Self-described community sponsorship programme, matching grants, and event sponsorship (Cape Cod Healthcare 5K etc., 2022 profile). Rogers & Gray Charitable Foundation Fund at CCF: $46,000+ granted cumulatively (older evidence).	None found	No formal published cycle — relationship route via South Dennis leadership.

Tier 2 (credible: approach selectively for 2026, file for 2027)

Prospect	Category	Why plausible / likely budget	Documented Cape giving (evidence)	Venue link	Timing / cycle
William Raveis Real Estate	Real estate	Repeat lead funder of Cape arts; Ryan Raveis appears among names featured by the AFCC. A luxury brokerage buying front-row association with a professional theatre event is orthodox marketing.	Credited lead funder of AFCC annual grants (2024) and Capacity-Building Programme (Jan 2026) — recent, sustained arts giving on the Cape.	None found	No formal programme found — approach via Cape offices AFCC relationship.
Kinlin Grover Compass	Real estate	"Cape Cod's leading real estate brokerage" (their words); became a Cape Cod	New CCBL sponsor, June 2024 (league announcement).	None found	No formal programme found —

Prospect	Category	Why plausible / likely budget	Documented Cape giving (evidence)	Venue link	Timing / cycle
		Baseball League sponsor in 2024 — demonstrates appetite for exactly this kind of visible, seasonal, community-audience sponsorship.			marketing decision; approach brokerage leadership.
Edward Bangs Kelley & Elza Kelley Foundation ("Kelley Foundation")	Private foundation	Barnstable County remit including arts & culture; administered by the Cape Cod Foundation. A Kelly/Kelley Foundation is publicly thanked as sponsor of the Cape Cod Speaker Series at the Tilden Arts Center — i.e. a funder already paying for professional evenings in your exact room (spelling discrepancy in the Facebook post; verify identity).	Grants across arts & culture in Barnstable County (foundation site; county grant-makers directory). Sponsorship of Cape Cod Speaker Series at Tilden (venue Facebook, "The Kelly Foundation"). $5m+ distributed over last 20 years (2020 affiliation announcement).	Yes — Tilden (Speaker Series sponsor, verify)	Rolling applications Executive Committee meets monthly review can take six months – impossible for Aug 2026; file early for 2027. Requires tax exempt organisation confirm whether Ch.180 statute suffices or 501(c)(3)/fisc sponsor needed.
Donald C. McGraw Foundation	Private foundation	Repeat funder of Cape arts infrastructure via the AFCC — evidence of sustained appetite for Cape arts despite being an off-Cape family foundation.	Credited funder of AFCC annual grants (2024) and Capacity-Building Programme (Jan 2026).	None found	No public application route found likely approach via AFCC relationship.
Cape Cod Healthcare (marketing/sponsorship, not Community Benefits)	Healthcare	The Community Benefits programme itself is a poor fit — grants of $5–10k tied to a Community Health Needs Assessment (behavioural health, access, housing). But CCHC sponsors and attends community events constantly, and an affordable-tickets, community-access framing gives its marketing arm a reason. Route the ask to marketing/foundation events, not Community Benefits.	Community Benefits: $300,000 across ~50 grants in latest round ($5,000–$10,000 typical) — health-aligned criteria. Foundation runs an active events/sponsorship operation (Eastward Ho! benefit etc.). Contact named in sources: Jennifer R. Cummings, associate director of development & community benefits.	None found	Community Benefits is an annual health criteria cycle (poor fit). Sponsorship route: direct approach.
Vineyard Wind (Avangrid / CIP)	Energy	Barnstable is its host town (cable landfall at Covell's Beach; $16m host-community payment). Offshore wind developers buy local goodwill systematically; a family-priced community event in Barnstable is on-thesis. Inference: no Cape arts sponsorship specifically evidenced.	$16m payment to Town of Barnstable (host agreement, reported 2022). $4m Nantucket community fund seeded; first grants May 2024. Massachusetts community liaison named on its site: Dana Rebeiro.	None found	No formal local sponsorship portal found approach through MA liaison directly.
TD Bank / TD Charitable Foundation	Bank (national with Cape branches)	Credited funder of the AFCC Capacity-Building Programme (Jan 2026) — recent Cape arts giving through a formal foundation with regional discretion.	AFCC Capacity-Building Programme funder credit, Jan 2026.	None found	National foundation cycles — likely too slow for 2026.
Eastern Bank / Eastern Bank	Bank (regional)	Credited funder of the AFCC Capacity-Building Programme	AFCC Capacity-Building Programme funder credit, Jan 2026.	None found	Foundation cycle — verify Foundation	with Cape presence)	(Jan 2026); one of the largest charitable bank foundations in Massachusetts.			likely 2027 route.

Mid-Cape Home Centers (South Dennis HQ)	Family business / construction supply	130-year local firm with a formal donations/sponsorship request portal and a habit of hosting and sponsoring its own community events. Arts not documented — its giving skews housing, veterans, first responders — but it is Dennis-headquartered and marketing-active.	Sponsorship portal live (midcape.com/donations-request). $12,000 to Family Pantry / Support the Soupman; ~$15,000 raised for Cape & Islands Veterans Outreach (2020); annual Housing Assistance Corp. sponsor. President named in 2020 source: Jack Stevenson — verify.	None found	Rolling portfolio, no published lead time.
Seamen's Bank / Long Point Charitable Foundation	Bank (Outer/Lower Cape)	The one Cape bank with documented performing-arts line items (Payomet, Tennessee Williams Theater Festival) — but its footprint is Provincetown–Brewster; West Barnstable sits outside it, and the CEO who drove giving (Lori Meads) retired May 2026. Weakened, not dead.	Annual report lists Payomet Performing Arts Center and Tennessee Williams Theater among supported organisations (2016 — older evidence). $7,500 Lower Cape Outreach Council; $3,750 Center for Coastal Studies (2020).	None found	Leadership transition in progress (CEO retired 15 May 2026) — timing awkward.
The Davenport Companies (corporate giving programme, distinct from the arts foundation)	Family business (diversified)	Fifth-generation Yarmouth family group; underwrites the entire Seaside Le Mans event each year — proof it will fund event production wholesale, not merely donate. The double-risk with the family arts foundation (row 1) means choosing one door.	Seaside Le Mans: ~$9m raised for Cape nonprofits since 2001, event costs underwritten by the company. Holiday giving programme: $6,500–$10,000+ matched annually (2019–2023 news items).	None found	Direct approach: DeWitt Davenport (CEO) / Christian Davenport (Operations) named in sources.
Cape Air	Aviation / family-rooted Cape firm	Hyannis-headquartered, community-relations programme with a history of event sponsorship — but its donations/sponsorship intake is currently paused ("we will update this page... when we return to accepting requests").	Community-relations page lists past supported organisations; intake suspended as of page capture.	None found	Programme paused — monitor; direct relationship only.

Tier 3 (category-plausible; evidence thin or explicitly not found)

Per your constraint, absence of evidence is stated rather than papered over. These are listed because the category logic is sound and a warm introduction would change their rank overnight.

Prospect	Category	Why plausible / likely budget	Documented Cape giving (evidence)	Venue link	Timing / cycle
Bilezikian Family Foundation (Cuffy's of Cape Cod family)	Family foundation	Stated fields include the arts; listed in Barnstable County's directory of Cape grant-makers. No specific recent grant amounts found.	County directory listing only — no itemised giving found in this run.	None found	Not found
La Tanzi, Spaulding & Landreth (attorneys, Orleans)	Law firm	The one Cape law firm with a named charitable vehicle found in this run (scholarship	Named scholarship fund at Cape Cod Foundation (fund list). Event-level giving: not found.	None found	Not found

Hy-Line Cruises (Scudder family)	Marine / family business	Multi-generational Hyannis family firm; sponsors community programmes (Cape Abilities). BUT: published donation policy is passes-in-kind, not cash — poor fit for a $17.5k cash ask.	Cape Abilities sponsor (Welcome to Cape Cod Beach Buckets). Policy: donates passes, not gift certificates/cash.	None found	Written request for policy (in-kind only)
Eversource	Utility	Serves the Cape; large signature-event charitable operation ($6.1m raised via events, 2024) — but giving is centralised on marquee causes (marathon, children's hospitals); no Cape arts sponsorship evidenced. Weak fit.	Corporate partnerships page (2024 figures). Cape-specific arts giving: not found.	None found	Centralised corporate programme
Chatham Bars Inn	Hospitality	Plausible on brand and clientele. No giving evidence found in this run — say so rather than guess.	Not found.	None found	Not found

Existing relationships with CCCC / Tilden / the Educational Foundation

Direct venue-relationship evidence was scarce in public sources. What was found: (1) The Kelly/Kelley Foundation is publicly thanked as sponsor of the Cape Cod Speaker Series, which performs at the Tilden Arts Center and donates a share of ticket revenue to the CCCC Educational Foundation — the closest thing to a warm, venue-adjacent funder identified, subject to verifying the spelling/identity discrepancy. (2) The Arts Foundation of Cape Cod has granted directly to the Tilden Arts Center ($2,500, "Shakespeare Under the Stars") and funded a $10,000 Wampanoag Nation Singers and Dancers production staged at Tilden — so the AFCC's funder network (Raveis, Cape & Coast, RogersGray, SSPA, McGraw, Davenport, Kelley, TD, Eastern Bank) is, functionally, the Tilden funder network. (3) Payomet Performing Arts Center presents off-season shows at Tilden — its business-sponsor list (not publicly itemised) would be a useful comparable. The CCCC Educational Foundation itself (foundation@capecod.edu, 508 375 4015) will know its own corporate donors; since you are already negotiating with the venue, asking them directly is legitimate and fast.

Deadlines and cycles — what is impossible this year

Impossible or effectively impossible for 29 August 2026: Kelley Foundation (up to six months' review); TD Charitable and Eastern Bank foundations (formal cycles); Cape & Coast Bank's formal event-sponsorship route (8-week minimum has passed — though a direct conversation with leadership is not bound by the portal). Borderline: Rockland Trust (6–8 weeks before the publicity deadline — if your publicity deadline is early August, you have missed it; if it is late July for print, you already had). Open: Davenport arts foundation (no published deadline), Cape Cod 5 (rolling), Mid-Cape (rolling portal), all direct/principal approaches. Paused: Cape Air. Everything closed for 2026 should be filed for 2027 in September–October, when your first event's press coverage becomes the strongest exhibit in the application.

The three to five strongest prospects, and why

1. John K. & Thirza F. Davenport Foundation. The stated remit — performing arts, Barnstable County, one-time projects, Mid-Cape preference, matching-funded events — reads as though it were written for this event. The $0-profit structure and free community seats give the "matching/leveraged" character they say they prize. Family-controlled, so a decision can be fast. The ask may need reframing from "sponsorship" to "grant towards a one-time performing-arts event", and the $17.5k figure is above typical Cape arts grants — consider whether they take the whole or anchors a shared structure (which your one-sponsor rule currently forbids: a genuine tension to resolve).
2. Cape Cod 5. Deepest pockets among Cape community banks, a rolling application door, and a decade-plus record of exactly this kind of naming sponsorship. The exclusive front-row-plus-clam-bake package is a client-entertainment asset a bank can actually use.

3. Cape & Coast Bank. Its corporate-giving language is the closest match to your offer ("provide a platform for us to promote both the organization we support and the Bank"). The $7,500 published event ceiling and the missed 8-week window mean 2026 requires a direct leadership conversation; a rebranding bank has an unusual, time-limited appetite for name visibility.

4. Rockland Trust. The only formal programme found that (a) names arts performances as a sponsorship category, (b) does not require 501(c)(3), and (c) runs rolling intake. The clock is the only enemy.

5. RogersGray / The Baldwin Group. Hometown (South Dennis), recent Cape-arts funding credit, a national rebrand to localise, and — not trivially — an insurance broker is someone your production needs anyway, which creates a natural first meeting.

Second run — individuals and family offices

Per the narrower brief: individuals with a documented Cape connection and a documented interest in the arts or live performance, with no speculation about personal wealth. The pool that survives the evidence standard is small.

Name	Cape connection	Evidence of arts / performance interest	Evidence of philanthropic giving
Ken Fulk	Provincetown resident (with husband Kurt Wootton); owner-restorer of the Mary Heaton Vorse house, Commercial Street	Founder, Provincetown Arts Society / Saint Joseph's Arts Foundation (501(c)(3) with a Provincetown arm); runs the Vorse house as an artists' residency and gallery; film collaborations with Provincetown Film Society	Personally underwrites the Vorse house residency; foundation presents exhibitions and benefit events with FAWC and PAAM
DeWitt Davenport	South Yarmouth; CEO, The Davenport Companies (fifth-generation Cape family)	Oversees the John K. & Thirza F. Davenport Foundation for the visual and performing arts	Created Seaside Le Mans (2001), ~$9m raised for Cape nonprofits, event underwritten by his company; past chair, Cape Cod Healthcare board
Trish Kennedy	Cape-connected donor (context: AFCC)	Named lead individual funder of the Arts Foundation of Cape Cod's annual grant-giving (2024)	AFCC grant-round funding credit, 2024
Ryan Raveis	Co-president, William Raveis Inc. (major Cape brokerage); featured by AFCC	Listed among names featured on the AFCC site (context unclear — likely honorary/ambassadorial; verify)	Firm is a repeat lead funder of AFCC grants (2024, 2026)
Note on comedy-specific patrons	—	No individual with BOTH a documented Cape connection AND a documented comedy interest AND documented giving was findable in this run. That is a statement of absence, not of impossibility: comedy-adjacent patrons cluster around South Shore Playhouse Associates (Melody Tent) and the Cape Cod Speaker Series boards — those membership lists are the place to look next, ideally through someone who can make an introduction.	—

What was not findable in this run

Named giving-decision individuals for most prospects (only those cited above were sourced, several from dated material); itemised sponsor lists for the Cape Cod Melody Tent, Payomet and Cape Symphony (their sponsor pages exist but do not enumerate sponsors in crawlable text — reading their printed programmes or asking their development offices would close this gap); any public list of CCCC Educational Foundation corporate donors; grant amounts for the McGraw, Bilezikian and Willowbend vehicles; and any individual satisfying all three tests of Cape connection, comedy interest and documented giving. These absences are reported per your constraint rather than filled with plausible fabrication.

Suggested cross-check: run the identical prompt through Deep Research as planned; the overlap set will almost certainly centre on the Cape banks, the Davenport and Kelley foundations, and the AFCC funder network — if it does not, interrogate the divergence before trusting either list.
